

Grace Collins

Executive Trainer
Forbes Travel Guide

With experience in operations and food and beverage in the luxury hospitality industry, Grace Collins brings a passion for anticipating the discerning guest's needs.

Collins held leadership positions with Relais & Châteaux, where she developed the skillset necessary to work with boutique properties, such as Forbes Travel Guide Five-Star The Point in New York's Adirondacks.

She then joined world-renowned Rosewood Hotels & Resorts, leading the guest experience team at The Carlyle, A Rosewood Hotel in New York City, where she implemented training initiatives that helped maintain its Four-Star rating. Collins also served as task force director of guest experience for the Five-Star Las Ventanas al Paraíso, A Rosewood Resort in Los Cabos.

Collins' meticulous attention to detail and dedication to excellence shine through her training. Her personalized coaching style and ability to connect with people foster an inspirational and positive environment.