

Rachida Benizi

Executive Trainer

Rachida Benizi brings 20 years of hospitality expertise across all segments and disciplines.

Benizi served as performance development manager for five Ritz-Carlton properties before joining Marriott International's Hotel Openings and Transitions team as the senior manager of operations delivery and brand activation. Her expertise led to her promotion as Marriott International's western region's senior learning and development manager. In this position, Benizi directed five market learning managers.

Benizi's leadership style, characterized by a strong commitment to nurturing talents and fostering excellence, has been a guiding force in her career. This dedication earned her the Leadership Excellence Award with Marriott International & Learning Excellence Award with The Ritz-Carlton.

Benizi's expertise and creativity were also invaluable in designing multiple programs within the Marriott International organization, including comprehensive training for all hotel openings, luxury training for Deloitte auditors and the Field Trainer Network program. Her energy and enthusiasm are both contagious and engaging.

Benizi is fluent in English, French and Arabic.
